Boosters' Club Projects - Help Needed

The Appomattox County High School Boosters Club continues to fulfill its primary function - to support the growth and improvement of the high school athletic program. The Boosters Club, under the former leadership for Harry G. Lawson and Bill Jamerson, has made valuable contributions toward the improvement of the athletic program.

Through the efforts of the Boosters Club, the high school has been able to purchase new uniforms, build a track at the new high school, buy track equipment such as hurdles, and an astro pit, purchase a camera to film football games, buy a whirlpool to treat athletic injuries, purchase a new 7-man blocking sled and other equipment necessary to teach the athletes. The young people of the community have benefited tremendously from the support of this organization.

However, their support is a continuing support. What next for the Boosters Club??

A number of projects for the improvement of the athletic program are on the agenda. A project of top priority is the improvement of the high school football field. Under the leadership of President John T. Paulette, the club hopes to accomplish by the opening game of the '78 season: 1 - an improved lighting system, 2 - a new concession stand on the home side, 3 - added fencing, 4 - new ticket booths and improvements to the press box.

These cannot be accomplished by the Boosters Club and High School alone. They will need the help of the community organizations and individuals. These stadium improvements are essential to maintain what we believe is the best stadium in the district.

Appomattox has always been a proud community and with a combined effort the A.C.H.S. athletic program will continue to grow with pride.

For more informaiton on Boosters Club projects contact, John T. Paulette, Gordon Bragg and/or attend the next Boosters Club meeting March 16, 1978 at the high school.

Minutemen Victorious

By Tamara Nash

Whoever made the regulation regarding basketball quarters being only eight minutes long should be shot. Especially when things have finally begun to run smoothly, and you've got the ball, and you're only four points behind. But no, that horrible buzzer has to sound, letting you know that you've lost by a trifling 2 buckets.

At home the Raiders took on the Liberty Minutemen on Tuesday night, Feb. 7, before a large crowd of Raider fans. The game was high-scoring but the highest score turned out to be Liberty's. The first quarter was taken by Liberty 16-10, the second, 43-32, and in the third, it looked like Liberty's game, 61-48. The fourth quarter was not only the Raiders' highest scoring quarter of the game, but their biggest so far of the season, scoring 32 points. This brought the game to a heartbreaking 84-80 win for Liberty, defeat for the Raiders.

Bond led the Minutemen's scoring with 32 points and nearly every time he got the ball, it was good for two. For the Raiders, freshman Shane Abernathy came off the bench to lead the Raider scoring with 18 points while four other Raiders hit double figures. Joe Fraley had 16, Arthur Haskins had 14, Darrell Schrock had 13, and Larry Kelso had 11. Tony Hancock shot 4 points worth, while Steve Cobb and Tony Smith each had a bucket apiece.

There will be a $5.00 fee for all late registrations.

Little League Basketball Teams To Play Benefit Games

Three Basketball Benefit games will be played by the Little League Basketball players Saturday night, March 4th, at the Appomattox County High School gym. These games will be sponsored by the Appomattox Jr. Woman's Club in recognization of the participants in the Little League Basketball program in our county.

These games will be a climax to the regular season of play for the Little League players. These teams have played six regular scheduled games on Saturday mornings for the past six weeks demonstrating an excellent performance of basketball training and sportsmanship.

First game time will be 6:30 p.m. with the 8-9 year olds starting off a night of excitement and anticipation. The regular season teams in this age group were divided equally for play in Saturday night's game. Following this game will be the 10-11 year olds with the first and fourth place teams combined vs the second and third place teams combined. The final game of the night, 12-13 year old age group, will be a most exciting game in that the first place team which was undefeated in the regular season of play will stand up against the remainder two teams of this age group.

Admission to the games will be $1.00 adults, 50c students, and under 5 years of age free. All proceeds from these games will pay for the sponsorship of an Appomattox county youth to Camp Easter Seal West for a four-week speech therapy session during June of this summer. The total cost for the four-week session for each child to the speech camp is $500. The campership fee of $250 is awarded by the Appomattox Jr. Woman's Club and the Easter Seal Society bears the remaining cost. It is the hope of the club that this amount will be raised during Saturday night's games. The prime objective of Camp Easter Seal is to stimulate an awareness of abilities instead of disabilities.

Everyone is urged to come out with their entire family March 4th and enjoy an evening of excitement and entertainment demonstrated by our local youth as well as support an very worthy project.

Amherst, 48-39

By Donna Mitchell

The Appomattox Raiderettes met the Amherst Lancerettes on Monday night at Jefferson Forest in the first round of the Seminole District Girls' Tournament.

The first quarter ended 13-9 in favor of Appomattox. Amherst pulled within one at the half, 22-21. In the third quarter, Amherst led 36-29 when the buzzer sounded. The final score was 48-39.

Appomattox was led by Roxie Martin with 18 points and 5 rebounds. Marlene Moore had 11 points and 5 rebounds. Annette Carter had 6 points and 4 rebounds and Connie Murray and Marie Fraley had 6 each.

Vanessa Lewis led Amherst with 14 points. Wanda Jones had 12, Tammy Ogden had 10, Robin Franklin had 5, Nancy Trent had 4 and Willie Franklin had 3.

Appomattox shot 52% from the line and 32% from the floor.

Amherst shot 29% from the line and 44% from the floor.

The Appomattox Raiderettes would like to thank everyone who supported them this year during the regular season and the tournament!

We would like to salute the seniors on the team. They are Marie Fraley, #15, was co-captain and leading scorer with 12 pts. per game. Marie played 15 games missing only 1 because of illness. The team will miss Marie next year. Connie Murray #14 is a familiar face to everyone having played for 4 years. She was co-captain, two years, and played guard. She played 15 gtames, missing one with a knee injury. She will be sorely missed next year. Marlene Moore, #40, played in all the games and was a terrific center. Her rebounding (7 per game) and shooting (10 pts. per game) helped the Raiderettes win a lot of games. Roxie Martin #24, played as a forward and played in 13 games, missing three because of an injury. Roxie's ponts and defensive recoveries added to the excitement of the game and helped the Raiderettes get to the tournament. Roni Franklin, #11, played 16 games and her defense was terrific and exciting.

We wish all the Raiderettes a terrific future and good luck always!

JV Basketball Round-Up

The J. V. Raiders finished the season with a 59-47 win over Jefferson Forest. The win marked the 8th against 7 losses. Throughout the season the Baby Raiders were led by Terry Woods, who averaged 17.5 points a game. Darrell Schrock added 11 points a game before moving up to varsity. Phil Paulette added 9.5 pts. a game.

The J.V.'s averaged just under 50 points a game and gave up 55 points a game. Other team members who contributed much to the team were Ronnie Robinson, William Scott, Ernest Daye, Marvin Johnson, Andrew Fratrick, Steve Mayberry, Timmy Marshall, Timmy Tolley, Darnell Trent, Allen Smith, Jack Hudson and Skelie Ferguson. Many thanks to all the Raider fans who supported us during the season.

That's All, Folks

By Tamara Nash

One thing about the Raiders. They're good at using surprise tactics. When first place and eighth place play, very few people put much emphasis on the outcome. It's logical. When Appomattox played Brookville Tuesday night, Feb. 21, in the first round of the Seminole District Tournament, most people expected Brookville to stomp the Raiders good. Twenty-two to eleven is not a stomp. It is also the lowest scoring game in the 1977-78 Seminole District. Very few people were surprised to find it snowing outside - the freeze in the gym was thorough. And it was all Raiders. For a full minute first half, the Raiders held the ball for at least 13 of those 16 minutes. The first quarter ended with the score 2-0, in favor of Brookville, if you call that favor. In the second quarter, Bill Blythe scored (what's in a name) Kurt Thompson once, to put the Bees ahead 8-0 at the half. Eight points at the half, for a touch for the number 1 team in the district. In the third quarter, Larry Keso went up for 2 and Brookville managed 4, but in the fourth, the ice thawed and the Raiders broke loose scoring nine points. High (?) scorer for Appomattox was Joe Fraley with 6, Larry Kelso had 3, and Tony Hancock had 2. But fouls were the third blow with the Bees shooting 13 foul shots and making 6. That, along with 2 field goals, gave Brookville a 10-point quarter and a 22-11 win.

The Raiders started their season with 1 returning starter. Less than half way through the season. They had lost 3 starters this year which took away an average of 25 points per game. They caught the flu, and the snow caught them and they even had their tonsils removed. And they still went to the tournament. There's not a whole lot you can promise about next year. We won't be much taller, unfortunately. But we'll be bringing back a team with experience.

Coach Archer and Coach Dickerson deserve a lot of credit along with the team members. Our team is young and inexperienced. And it's hard to work out a game plan when you're not sure who'll show up for practice from one day to the next. But they've been there. They've gained the respect of the team members, and they deserve it. They've been the recipients of a lot of criticism and not all of it deserved. But, everything is not always fair. And everybody can't always win.

So, to Coach Ray Archer, Coach Coty Dickerson, the Raider players, managers, and fans, congratulation on a well-played season!

A few people are beginning to pull soil samples. Just as soon as it dries off, there will be a flood. Since this is a critical year with soil tests, this week let's go into some detail.

When a sample comes through this office, normally it gets a routine test. This means that four tests are designed to determine the level of phosphorous, potassium, calcium and magnesium. The fifth test is for soil pH or acidity.

If there are special problems there are special tests that will assist in identifying the problem. There are five of these tests - Organic Matter - most soils average 2% organic matter in Virginia. The higher the organic matter, the better the soils tilth. With relatively high rainfall and high soil temperatures, there is little build-up of organic matter in the soil. Soluble Salts - the use of this test is to determine if too much fertilizer has been applied to the crop or too close to the seed causing a toxic effect. Nitrate - Nitrogen - this is a test for greenhouse operators. Zinc - a deficiency of this element can occur when the soil pH is high and the phosphorus test is very high. However, under these conditions only three crops have been found to demonstrate deficiency in Virginia - corn, small grain and grain sorghum. Manganese - a deficiency can occur with a high pH in eastern Virginia and every there can only be soybeans and peanuts have shown a deficiency.

Questions frequently arise - why doesn't Virginia Tech test for trace elements such as Boron, copper and sulfur. The answer is that: 1. The soil test does not work (does not indicate whether or not a soil is truly "Low" or deficient in a certain element) and/or

2. Application of that element on major crops grown in Virginia has resulted in few, if any, increases in crop yield.

The University of Maryland has done some work on the value of Broiler litter for top dressing small grain.

First of all, researchers found that the nutrient content varied widely.

Second, N, P and K recovery by Blueboy wheat was not as great from broiler litter as it was from chemical fertilizers early in the growing season.

Third, using average nutrient value, broiler litter can be used on small grain at the rate of one to three tons per acre.

Fourth, there was no measurable difference in plant food carry-over the second year between broiler litter and commercial fertilizers.

There are 11 years of research with Boron on corn, alfalfa and soybeans. On soils that tested low for Boron, over 34 location - years on corn there was never a response from boron application.

There are 9 years of copper research in the state and again at 34 locations - years testing corn, soybeans and wheat, only one response has been achieved and that was on wheat.

With sulfur, there has been 13 years of research and 56 location - years of studies on corn, wheat, soybeans, oats, alfalfa, red clover, peanuts, cotton and onions. There have been 7 responses - 4 on corn, 1 on peanuts, 1 on orchard grass and 1 on oats. While there is limited data for Virginia conditions, it indicates that sulfur accumulates in the subsoil (other states have also shown this). Therefore, we feel that a subsoil test would have limited value.

If a soil test won't tell whether crops need copper, Boron or sulfur, a question might be - is there another way? Yes, tissue analysis. If you are interested in using this test, directions for making the test are available from this office.

Committee Urges Virginians To 'Light Up To Keep Canal'

The Virginia Statewide Committee to Save Our Canal has called on all Virginians to turn on the lights of their automobile and trucks while traveling to demonstrate opposition to the proposed Panama Canal treaties.

Mrs. R. C. Dawson, committee chairman, said the committee is asking all Virginians to keep their lights on while driving "until Congress defeats the treaties."

The project is part of a national "Light Up to Keep the Canal" movement launched recently.

Steve Giles, a committee spokesman, pointed out that "Article IV, Section 3 of the United States Constitution clearly states that any transfer of United States property must be approved by both Houses of Congress. Therefore, we urge the House of Representatives to assert its constitutional authority by becoming involved in the treaty deliberations and rejecting this move to surrender our rights to canal ownership."

THE GUISERS ARE COMING

If you know children who go trick-or-treating on Hallowegn, you might like to hear what young Scots do to celebrate.

A girl who wants to get married takes a lighted candle into a bedroom and places it in front of a mirror. She sits and looks into the mirror and, if she's lucky, she sees beside her own reflection the face of the man she's going to marry. If he turns out to be somebody she doesn't fancy, Teacher's Information Centre points out, she may act like an ill-tempered fiend for a spell.
